Transforming Engineers for a Sustainable Global Future

Imagine. Design. Create.

Building a better world through peace engineering

Why you should attend www.weef-gedc2018.org

- Largest gathering of engineering deans from around the world. First time ever in the United States.
- First Peace engineering conference since 2004. Help create a Peace Engineering movement, you should be part of it with ownership and sense of belonging
- Be part of the dialogue in engineering curricula changes. Opportunity to shape the conversation on engineering education for the future, that emphasizes the social responsibility of engineers, to shape the future ethos of engineering
- Industry-Academia dialogue on curricula reform, research, innovation and entrepreneurship
- Identify potential international collaborations with industry and academia
- First global career fair (job and graduate student recruitment)
- Identify potential collaborations with principal national laboratories (AFRL, SNL, LANL)
- Participate in the Global Diversity Award sponsored by Airbus
- Expand your ecosystems globally (industry-academia-government-multilateral organizations)
- Opportunity to participate in exclusive tours of national labs
- Explore the beauty of the Land of Enchantment – check a visit to Santa Fe off your bucket list (oldest State Capital of the USA)

I want to see you in Albuquerque, Nov. 12-16, 2018
